

The Methodology of Evaluating Social Action Programs // Glen George Cain, Robinson G. Hollister // Institute for Research on Poverty, University of Wisconsin, 1969 // 1969

Evaluating the effectiveness of socially-oriented non-profit organizations™ social. Projects: approaches and methods. Luydmila Boronina â€“ Daria Ronzhina â€“ Zinaida Senuk. Abstract Most Russian socially-oriented non-profit organizations (SO NPO) operates on a project basis.Â Formation of evaluation tool based on the methodology of the systematic, process, situational and qualimetric approaches, modern methods of IT-modeling. Key words: socially-oriented non-profit organization, social project, the criteria for evaluating the effectiveness. JEL Code: Model Construction and Estimation (C51), Project Evaluation (H43), Public Administration; Public Sector Accounting and Audits (H83). Introduction. The Meanings of Methodology. How to Review the Literature and Conduct Ethical Studies. Strategies of Research Design.Â This text considers both the methodology and methods of social science research. The terms may seem to be synonyms, but methodology is broader and envelops methods. Methodology means understanding the entire research processâ€“including its social-organizational context, philosophical assumptions, ethical principles, and the political impact of new knowledge from the research enterprise.Â Studies questioned the effectiveness of such programs, yet they replaced programs that were supported by research. At the same time, knowledgeable scientists serving in government. 7. The methodology proposed is based on calculation of social-economic and budget efficiency investments. Payment of social efficiency is based on accounting lower prices caused by cost savings arising as a result of investments, and improving service quality. Calculation of budget efficiency of savings assumes costs for providing public services over budget investment to economic efficiency of public services.Â The article focuses upon theoretical approaches to evaluating efficiency of investment projects in regard to public life taking into account all elements of public services provision system. The methodology proposed is based on calculation of social-economic and budget efficiency investments.