Lone Pine is a series of children's books written by English author Malcolm Saville. Although they were written over a 35-year timespan, between 1943 and 1978, the characters only age by a few years in the course of the series. The earlier books evoke visions of an outdoor 1940s and '50s childhood reminiscent of Enid Blyton's Famous Five books, in which children are allowed to have adventures, explore strange places and encounter villains without adult supervision. These Lone Pine books were Wings over witchend. First Published 1956 by Newnes. First Edition wrapper by Charles Wood.Â Girls Gone By 2010: Mary Cadogan's introduction is followed by a brief article on the author by Mark O'Hanlon and the book's publishing history, illustrated by covers of the different editions and an illustration from the Spanish edition. The story is reproduced in the full text of the first edition. Although there are no illustrations, as in the original, the map is included as are the two variant forewords which appeared in some later editions. The beautiful dustwapper is reproduced in full as a wrap around cover - as can be seen in the enlarged image from the thumbnail (right Mystery at Witchend book.
